

World Central Kitchen – Webpage Documentation

A responsive webpage for charitable donations. Users can browse products, add to cart, and checkout. Built with Bootstrap and JavaScript.

Bootstrap Components I used

Navbar	Top navigation with brand and cart button
Buttons	Add items, increase/decrease quantity, clear cart and checkout
Cards	Display products with image, description, price
Offcanvas	Sidebar cart preview
Accordion	Order summary with subtotal, discount, tax, total
Collapse	Shows or hides shipping/checkout form
Modal	Order confirmation after submission
Toast	Notifications like “Item added to cart”
Grid system	Responsive layout for products and checkout

JavaScript

- Used to add, remove, increase, decrease, clear items
- Subtotal, discount (10% if  $\geq 3$  items), tax (10%), total
- Synchronizes cart preview, offcanvas, order summary, and totals
- Validates form, shows confirmation modal with order details, resets cart
- Buttons dynamically update cart, show checkout form, and clear items

CSS

- Primary color: #78add8 (light blue)
- Responsive cards with object-fit: cover
- Hover effects on buttons, styled slogan and footer

Why we exist

This is a nonprofit organization. All proceeds support local relief programs. You can buy a gift pack for someone in need or donate directly.
"When you talk about food and water, people don't want a solution one week from now, one month from now. The solution has to be now."
